

9th Engineer Battalion Association

2010 Newsletter

Thirty-eight Marines and guests gathered in Naples, New York to salute our MIA, SSGT James R. Moore on Memorial Day 2010. We came to salute Jim and the entire town turned out to salute us in the process. It was a proud moment for 9th Engineers to march in a parade, led by the Marine Corps Reserve Color Guard, two bands playing patriotic tunes and thousands of people cheering us.

Following the parade we paid tribute to Jim's mother and attended a luncheon hosted by the James R. Moore VFW Memorial Post # 8726 in Naples, NY.

Other events included a luncheon boat ride on the Erie Canal, a tour of the local vineyards, and a visit to the Rochester Vietnam Memorial Gardens. Many of us just enjoyed the fellowship sitting around the hospitality room at the hotel swapping lies and finding out we are all getting older by the minute. A sense of knowing that you are not alone with the memories you have been carrying through your life is somehow comforting and binds you together. Semper Fi!

Notes from Association President Herb Shaw

2010 Reunion was a huge success. I believe everyone that attended had a great time. Thirty eight of us were able to walk or ride in the Naples, N.Y Memorial Day Parade with a U.S. Marine Corps Color Guard escort. Mrs. Moore and the town welcomed us with open arms. I think I can speak for everyone that was there, we left upstate New York with a different feeling than we had when we arrived. Even the ladies had a different experience this year. They seem to be bonding more than I've seen in past years. Maybe they are finding out they are not the only Viet Nam Marine spouse. After 43 years an 84 year old Mrs. Moore found out that her son, Jimmy had been not forgotten. According to reports, Mrs. Moore still talks about the Marines that came to Naples to recognize her son. These days she is not doing well, we don't know how much longer she will be able to live alone.

One of our goals of the association should be to search out those families of our KIA's so we can let them know their loved ones are not forgotten. We must always be ready to give support to those that served with us in Viet Nam. We are finding new people that served with the 9th Engineers or 1st Shore Party almost daily.

Charleston, S.C. was chosen for our 2011 Reunion. Camp Lejeune, N.C. for our 2012 reunion Plans have been made for the Charleston, S.C. reunion and is scheduled for June 12 to 16, 2011 at the Holiday Inn Riverview. Registration information is included in this mailing. The 2011 business meeting will be held at 9:00 AM June 14, 2011 at the holiday Inn Riverview in the hospitality room.

Jim Harris's thoughts on the 9th Engineer Battalion Association

I have been a member of the 9th Engineer Battalion Association for some time; however, I resisted going to reunions because I didn't see any names I recognized. The distance to many of the reunions and the costs therefore against 'not knowing anyone' caused me to stay home.

Then there came the reunion in San Diego in 2007. I no longer had an excuse. It was two hours from my home in Rancho Cucamonga, California. The hotel cost was reasonable and I could always leave early. Hah! I made the arrangements and from my first arrival realized I had friends I didn't know I had. Guys, who experienced the same things I did, whether the things were good or bad, were there to talk with.

Former officers and commanding officers were there. Guys I had worked for in the battalion S-3. We talked of old times, friends and experiences. I found out they put their pants on the same way I did, one leg at a time. Their blouses may have had more ribbons than mine but it didn't seem to matter so long after our war.

I also developed a close relationship with Terry Porter, who as near as we can figure, replaced me in the battalion drafting section when I went home. And he lives an hour from me! And we both ride motorcycles (although his is a Harley-Davidson). Others came from around southern California as well. We've even gotten together between reunions. We visited the recruit depot in San Diego, took in a boot camp graduation, Camp Pendleton and had lunch with the modern engineers about to head for the middle east and the air station museum at Miramar for just a few of the highlights.

After the great time in San Diego, I decided to attend every reunion possible taking my wife when she could join me.

Our 2011 reunion promises to be equal or better than the ones I have attended. Our President and Reunion Planner Herb Shaw, as always, has gone all out to make our stay and experiences in Charleston, South Carolina the best possible. Make plans to join us. We sometimes have the family of a missing member join us. They learn what their Marine engineer did and accomplished while part of the battalion and we get to meet them.

As far as our future is concerned, we should strive to get all former battalion members to be part of our association. I'm still hoping some of the drafters and surveyors I worked with will join so I can catch up on the things we did as part of the S-3 Section.
